

THE BULLETIN.

BOLIVAR, TENN.
W. A. E. McNEAL, Editor.
Published Every Friday $100
Per Year.

Bob Taylor having carried both ends of the state, it is now in order for him to carry the middle.

Canada has declined to enter into a commercial treaty with the United States.

Tennessee pays out annually three million dollars to educate her children, and nine millions a year to feed her dogs. A good showing for the dogs.

The luxury of family quarrels will do where majorities are heavy. But the democratic family in Tennessee can not boast of heavy pluralities.

The Democratic party in Tennessee can't boast of sufficient margin to run the risk of family quarrels.

The papers report a large majority of the Dickson county delegation to be for Bob Taylor. If this be true, he has not only carried both ends of the state but a part of the middle.

The Hardeman county convention endorsed the Bulletin in its opposition to the re-nomination of Taylor. But from reports, the masses endorse Taylor.

The mule crop of Maury, Co., Tenn., is a valuable one. Sales made at Columbia, the county site, will reach $800,000 this season $800,000 last.

Several judges in the state have recently charged their grand juries that persons buying tickets in a newspaper lottery are indictable.

In stock-raising, Tennessee ranks third in the sisterhood. As a mule-market she ranks first, and as a tobacco producing state she stands next to Kentucky. And to cap it all, she has the largest export market in the world.

Democrats who will stay away from a convention, and then kick about the action of the convention are not as patriotic as they should be. This way of kicking and bolting ought not to be among democrats. Make your fight before and during the convention, but always accept the result.

The Hardeman county convention endorsed the Bulletin by appointing a majority of anti-Taylor men as delegates. But it now appears that both the Bulletin and the anti-Taylor delegates will have to accept a dish of crow.

Senator Harris says: "No man can make me believe that whiskey, tobacco and cigars are sufficiently necessary to allow us to take taxes off of them and keep it on actual necessities. If I had my way, I'd put taxes so high on whiskey and tobacco that bread and meat and agricultural products and lumber and other necessities might be sold free."

The Memphis Appeal has opposed the renomination of Gov. Taylor, and has made some right stinging little flings at him. But it seems that the Appeal has heard the people, and now it comes out like a man and says: "Gov. Taylor seems to be the preference of the Democrats, not only of Shelby county, but of the state, and will be all likelihood be the candidate of the Convention to be held on the 9th of May."

The people are beginning to believe that the charges which have been made against Gov. Taylor are lies. They reason correctly, that if he was guilty of double-dealing and treachery, those who know the facts ought to come out boldly and make specific charges, citing instances, times, and places, and assume all responsibility by signing their names to the charges. The Bulletin, then, has read these charges, but we have no proof. If we had it we'd give it.

The farmer who desires to excel and make his business as profitable as possible must not only endeavor to enrich his soil, so that he can grow large crops, but he must have in view the care and improvement of his live stock. He must not only breed so as to improve his stock in general, but he must give such care that he may make the most profit out of every individual member of all his various kinds of stock.

The re is not a better democrat in the state than Capt. A. T. McNeal. The Hardeman delegation will back him to a man for delegate to the St. Louis convention on the 10th of May.

Shelby has had every congressman since the war. Now, wouldn't it be just and fair to let Hardeman have the next?

Be cautious in giving your proxies. We understand that cunning men are now soliciting proxies in order that they may away great power in the convention.

Words of Warning.

Under this caption the Memphis Appeal, in its edition of April, 10th, gives Tennessee democrats one of the aptest and most sensible editorials for their consideration that it has yet been our pleasure to see. So kindly, and yet so truly, is each thought spoken, that the Bulletin is constrained to furnish its readers with the article, and invite their careful and thoughtful reading of the same. Harmony, unification, and strict adherence to our party—a campaign supported and upheld by the people and for the people is what we need and what we must have. The party must not be run for the purpose of putting men in office or perpetuating the tenure of those who are in. And politicians who will seek to hold their grip by abusing, gagging, and ostracising others are not worthy the support of the people. Here is what the Appeal says:

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of many Democratic aspirants for office in Tennessee, and of many of the 'working' elements well, to take for granted that a big Democratic majority next fall is assured whatever the complexion the fight may take and whoever may be nominated. As a consequence we perceive the manifestation of a certain spirit of factional recklessness that is most deplorable. There should be no more of this. It must be borne in mind that there are good Democrats who are anti-Prohibitionists, and good Democrats who are Prohibitionists; that there are good Democrats who are for the Blair bill and good Democrats who are against it, and in addition there are many good Democrats enrolled in the ranks of the Wheelers, who are saying but little, but who keep on saying wood. But in the coming campaign there will be a Presidency at stake, and in the election every Democratic vote in Tennessee will be wanted. Our house must be kept in thorough order and it should be alive with the enthusiasm of a complete unification in the face of the Republican foe. It is no time for the exercise of revenge and no time for the stimulation of latest grudges. Minorities must have fair play. Men take defeat gracefully only when they recognize that the victory has been fairly won. To brow-beat, to bulldoze and to gag are not Democratic methods. Democrats are never easily whipped into line, particularly Tennessee Democrats. The thing to be done next fall is to beat the Republican party, and to beat it badly. The platform will be that of the St. Louis Convention, with the incidental additions of the State platform. In the proceedings preliminary to the State Convention, extraneous and disturbing issues should be eliminated, that satisfactory nominations may be had. We don't want any such ill-feeling engendered in Tennessee as has been developed in Louisiana. We don't want to see men punished gratuitously. We don't want to see any exhibition of bossism. The voice of the people must be obeyed, and not the mandate of the 'machine.'"

Cap't. W. A. Collier.

The Memphis papers state that the Harris men and the anti-prohibitionists of Shelby county are organizing opposition to defeat Capt. W. A. Collier for delegate to the St. Louis convention for the state-at-large.

Has it come to this that a good democrat is to be brow-beaten, gagged and kicked out of his party, because he exercised his rights as an American citizen by opposing Harris and voting for prohibition? That prohibition question has been settled. Its friends were fairly and honorably defeated. We agreed to put aside the ill-feeling engendered, lay away the war axe, smoke the pipe of peace, and all be one again. This agreement ought to be carried out in good faith. Ability, honesty, and the capacity to work out something for the common good ought to be the test by which Capt. Collier is to be tried. He has all these, and the Bulletin is for him, and trusts that Hardeman democrats will see to it that they support him in the state convention held at the State at Large."

The Bulletin is indebted to Col. M. L. Moonier of New Orleans for valuable papers. Col Moonier is one of the superintendents of the R. M. S., is a member of the Y. M. M. D. A. of that city, and has been nominated by that association for a high position in the city government.

Man's Might.

An inventive genius by the name of McNeal, has contrived and constructed a machine whereby oil can be scattered from a vessel in a storm upon the waters of the raging sea, and the oil will cause the waters to subside and become as quiet, as if a general calm prevailed. Thus it develops that man can even command the tempest to cease and the waves no longer to roll. Great is man's might. Brain power and brain work is the secret of it all.

TENNESSEE.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat of Monday, April 19th, is an edition devoted chiefly to Tennessee and her resources, and the paper is to be complimented upon the thoroughness with which the work has been done. It says editorially: "The Times-Democrat this morning presents a review of the progress of the State of Tennessee, showing the rapid increase of her manufacturing and agricultural interests, and the marvelous development of her mineral wealth. Attention is also paid to the business and industrial growth of her chief cities. The showing is a most creditable one in every respect. Tennessee is evidently no laggard in the race. Her remarkable progress since the census of 1880 is set forth in the facts and figures presented with this issue, and furnishes a record of substantial advance and prosperity that may well excite the emulation of her sisters."

Memphis Bridge Bill.

Congressman Phelan has at last triumphed with his Memphis bridge bill. He engineered it through the House with such dispatch and success that the enemies of the bill were completely discomfited for a while. But they rallied their forces and renewed the fight with increased vigor when the bill went to the senate for its consideration. Here the measure would most likely have met with defeat, had it not been for the vigilance of Mr. Phelan. However the matter is now practically settled. The bill as it came to the senate from the House was amended to require the company building the bridge to make provision for a wagon and carriage way. Senator Bate advocated this in a very earnest speech and the amendment was adopted. The bill then went to the conference committee of the two houses and they agreed upon the bill as passed by the senate. Senator Bate received numerous telegrams from leading Memphis citizens criticizing his action and declaring that the bill would prevent the building of the bridge. However, Mr. Phelan wired the Kansas City railroad authorities, urging them to accept the amendment. They wired back that they would accept and build, notwithstanding there is no earthly need for the wagon and carriage way.

"RATHER QUEER."

The Memphis Appeal, after copying the BULLETIN's editorial of last week concerning Gen. Atkins' candidacy for the senatorship, adds the following comment:

"This is what might be termed plain speaking. And yet it is rather queer. The BULLETIN is at the same time very friendly to Albert McNeal and to Miller, both of whom are warm and outspoken friends of Senator Harris."

Not so rather queer, friend Appeal as your mind's eye sees it. THE BULLETIN is not so mean-spirited as to fall out with those who differ from it in choice. THE BULLETIN makes its own selections from among those of the same faith and order, and believes that Capt. McNeal and Charlie Miller are entitled to do likewise. If the Appeal intends by this fling to suggest that the Bulletin is influenced by McNeal or Miller or both, and that when they take snuff the Bulletin sneezes, it is far from the correct state of facts. THE BULLETIN allows no individual nor set of individuals to dictate its course. It has an idea that it can shape its own acts, and that it lacks can go unshaped. McNeal and Miller being far from making it make it "rather queer" that THE BULLETIN should be against him. THE BULLETIN believes Capt. McNeal to be an able and pure democrat, and it endorses his views on the cardinals of democracy—this is our political friendliness—but as to men and party methods we often differ. No, friend Appeal, McNeal, Miller, and THE BULLETIN is not a political ring and you must not be startled hereafter if you find us differing, and still friendly.

West Tennessee Conventions.

Six West Tennessee counties have held conventions and appointed delegates to the gubernatorial convention which meets in Nashville, May, the 9th, next. Out of the six, four have instructed. Two instructed for Caldwell, giving him 39; Shelby and Benton instructed for Bob Taylor, giving him 84. Hardeman and McNairy send no instructive delegations. A majority of the Hardeman delegation is for McNeal, and a majority of the McNairy is for Bob Taylor.

Madison county will most likely instruct for Bob Taylor to-morrow. Bob is cleaning up the big West Tennessee counties.

He Holds Both Ends.

Bob Taylor has the united support of both ends of the state. The mountain democrats who live in the rock-girded valleys of Carter, and the low land democrats who live in the swamp-and-sag-hedged plains of Shelby, have proclaimed in their conventions that Bob Taylor shall have their votes unconditionally and solidly, first last, and forever. Bob ought to feel good, and very good, over this result. Carter is the county of his birth and his boyhood, and Shelby is the most intimate of his friends.

Farmers will never get out of the pits and old ways of farming, until they know how to get out. In order to know how to get out they must be informed. The best way to get information is to read good newspapers, and especially those devoted to agriculture. With educated minds, we can think and act for ourselves and not be forced to follow in the old ways that have come down to us from our fathers. The Bulletin hopes to see at an early day a broader intelligence, and consequently a broader and higher prosperity.

13 For E. L. Taylor. Crainsville, Tenn. April 6, 1888. Editor Bulletin—I notice in a late issue of the Bulletin you request the people to write the Bulletin, and let you know the sentiments of the people in regard to the nomination for governor. As far myself I am for Robt. L. Taylor, and I honestly believe there is not an anti-republican in the 13 dist. but what is for Taylor, and should any of the delegates from 13 undertake to cast the vote of this dist. against Bob Taylor, he would commit a wrong that he would not be forgiven for soon.

GIVES UP. The Memphis Ledger which was a supporter of Bob Taylor in the opening of the campaign, but flopped to the enemy soon afterward, has heard the voice of the people, and now says: "Our Bob" seems to be in the lead and will most likely succeed himself. Shelby county is for him solidly. Two years ago Shelby was solid for Col. Looney."

A Word to the Gubernatorial Delegates. You were appointed to represent your districts, and not to represent yourselves. If you personally know, or learned from general expressions that your district favors the nomination of McNeal for governor, you ought to vote for McNeal, or make your proxy read for McNeal. Or, if you find that your district is for Bob Taylor, see that your proxy and your vote reads for Bob Taylor.

FARMS AND FARMING WANTED!

An opportunity to sell offered by the commissioner of agriculture.

Editor Bulletin: Dear Sir: Owing to excessive cold and the usual number of snow storms and blizzards that prevailed throughout the north, and especially the north-west, the past winter, I am receiving a greater number of inquiries after lands, from parties living in these localities, who desire and intend to move either this summer or next fall to a warmer climate, than has ever before come to this office. There is a demand for all kinds of land, but principally for farms and farming lands. The vast number of these enquiries precludes the possibility of me answering them all satisfactorily by letter even if I was informed as to where all the lands for sale are located or who located or who owns them, and in order that all these who have lands for sale and who wish to bring them to the attention of northern and western immigrants who are seeking homes in this state, I have determined to issue a bulletin descriptive of such property, (in accordance with Sec. 4, of the law creating this Department), which I will send out to all enquiries and distribute generally throughout the North and West.

The section of the law referred to says: "He, [the commissioner], shall keep in his own assistant commissioner's office, a record of lands for sale, lease or colonization, agricultural, mechanical or other requirements for labor, for which said commissioner shall be allowed fee of two dollars for making each entry, to be paid by the owner of the land offered for sale, &c." I desire to say to the citizens of your county, that I will publish about the 1st of May a land bulletin for general distribution and all those who have lands for sale and desire to advertise them in this way, can have them entered in this bulletin by sending a description of the same, accompanied by two dollars to this office.

All notices of lands for sale should be sent in by the 25th of April.

B. M. HORN, Commissioner.

A North Carolina Negro Whose Body is Unable to Support His Head.

The most singular case of big head on record is reported from Otham county, N. C., the possessor being a negro named Abner Davis. He is of a bright yellow color, has a well developed face, clear cut features and an intelligent countenance. Though twenty-two years of age, he is only three and a half feet tall and weighs less than seventy-five pounds. His head is so heavy that he has never been enabled to walk under it. His measurement is thirty-two inches in circumference. His arms and legs are very slender, and he cannot sit alone. When his head gets overbalanced he has to push it back with his hand. He does not know a letter or figure, but has a good mathematical mind, and can solve mentally almost any problem a white man may be given him.

A farmer named Smith Stewart, a very poor man with a large family, while digging on his rented farm in the neighborhood of Helman Station, Ind. came upon a jar containing $12,000 in gold and silver coins. His landlord, a man named Sweet, claimed the ownership of the treasure-trove on the ground that it was buried by the deceased sister, who died in 1883 and the case is being contested. A fact which seems to make against the justice of the landlord's claim is that there are many rare French, Mexican and American coins in the collections, ranging in amounts from silver quarters to $20 gold pieces. Some of the dollars and fifty cent pieces are over 200 years old, and are as bright as they were when first coined.

A Haywood county correspondent writes as follows:

Capt. W. A. Collier has many friends in this county who will gladly support him as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the St. L. convention. This is his native country and our people know he is an able and true Democrat who will well represent them.

Mr. A. W. Brockway is back from Bolivar, where he attended a meeting of the commissioners of the West Tennessee Insane Asylum.

What a Woman Never Admits.

That she is in love.
That she ever flirted.
That she laces tight.
That she is tired at a ball.
That she is fond of scandal.
That her shoes are so small.
That she cannot keep a secret.
That it takes her long to dress.
That she has kept you waiting.
That she uses anything but powder.
That she says what she doesn't mean.
That she blushed when you mentioned a particular gentleman's name.

Raising Bullfrogs for Market.

There is a miry town in Arkansas, called Atlanta, which nestles in the midst of a charming swamp, where toads and snakes feast and frolic. The lands about the town are without soil—the soil all having mired and sunk down to an unknown depth. It is an attractive locality, and many emigrants from Hardeman and other counties are going there yearly. Our correspondent at that point has just sent in the following report of the Bulletin. The swamp being unsuited to the growing of grain, the inhabitants have suited the mires to the circumstances, and now grow bullfrogs for market. They have excellent feed, and the growths have been magnificent until last year, when the whole crop heaped away before it was ripe. This was very discouraging, but when the time came another crop was put in, and at last reports it was doing well, there are indications that the example set by the last crop may be followed this year, as several of the more mature frogs have begun prearranging about the swamps already. When the yield does not take unto itself legs and hop away it is sold. The Bulletin correspondent is endeavoring to make a contract for one thousand bushels of frogs to be delivered out of the first crop that can be obtained until it thoroughly ripens.

A Lick at Charlie.

From the Knoxville Journal. "Cholly" Miller got in his work in Hardeman county and the result is a McNeal delegation. Whatever others may do or say, "Cholly" is too good a democrat to take anything like the Blair bill in 'his'n'. The fact is, "Cholly" don't go much on "dedication" any way. He has an idea that schoolhouses are not good places to make good Democratic voters. Folks who read are too much inclined to ask questions. A good Democrat is not inquisitive—he takes the straight ticket.

WHEEL RESOLUTIONS

Mashburn Schellhouse, Dist. 8 April, 7, 1888. Editor Bulletin—Wheel No. 759 met according to previous appointment, and unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

1st. Resolved: That we favor the support of wheelers for office, when there is a possibility of their election.
2nd. That we will support no men for county office who have been unsuccessful in his district or ward.
3rd. That we will not support any man for office, who opposes the proper and legitimate use of proxies, seeking by this opposition to controvert the majority of the voting population, thereby we demand a proportionate representation in our legislative bodies.
4th. That for Governor we are for R. L. Taylor.
5th. That for Congress we are for W. F. Thompson, first, last and all the time.
6th. That for the state senate we are for Robert Anderson of McNairy county.

Now, Mr. editor, you need not think we are making any attempt to primaries, for that would be trespassing on the profound wisdom of our (the people's) executive committee. We just merely wish to show the tendency of a few straws in a legal manner to our superiors. With the best wishes for the Bulletin in its defense of the people and the highest regards for yourself, I remain, Sir, J. D. S. J. P. P. S. The votes being taken for sheriff were cast for Slater Simpson, save one which was cast for Mr. Powell.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Eclectic Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Savage & Emerson's Drug Store.

The Physicians Have Found out

That a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive subcutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain, and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated is so reliable as the fact that Eclectic Bitters cures this disease. Nor is it less positively established that it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest the swelling, and to the signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder ailments, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.
